Reason for Changes:

Discontinuance. This is product change notification for product obsolescence and a last time buy request to collect your order needs until the 31st of July 2020. The last time buy orders will be shipped until the 30st of September 2020. The products will no longer be produced after the 1st of October 2020. The affected parts have been identified in our continuing efforts to deliver extraordinary customer value and supply chain excellence. These products are long standing in our portfolio and due to very low volume sales and lack of customer forecasts we are taking actions to streamline our product offering. The product should not be designed in for future application and we provide a time frame to customers until the 31st of July 2020 to find alternatives to replace this product. For a last time buy quote or for alternative products please con your TE customer service or TE sales representative.
