

Honeywell Announces Second Source Components to Select FSG Series Force Sensor Cover and Housing

In order to better enable us to provide continuous supply to our customers, Honeywell is adding a second source, effective immediately, for the cover and housing for select FSG Series Force sensors.

All new parts have undergone extensive design validation testing. The electrical performance of sensors built from the legacy and new components is the same, and customers should notice no difference. There may be minor differences in non-critical dimensions or appearance for some housings and covers, which will not impact the functionality of the part. Please refer to the illustrations below for further information.

ABOUT FSG SERIES FORCE SENSORS

The FSG Series Force Sensor provides force sensing performance with enhanced precision and reliability in a more compact, commercial-grade package. The sensor features a proven sensing technology that utilizes a specialized piezoresistive micro-machined silicon sensing element. The low power, unamplified, non-compensated Wheatstone bridge circuit design provides inherently stable mV outputs over the 5N, 10N, 15N, and 20N force ranges.
