Expiration of C-Tick/RCM Certification for the POE36U-1AT

Dear Phihong Customer,

The C-Tick emissions approval, as well as associated RCM approval, for the special order POE36U-1AT model has expired and will not be renewed. Additionally, the SAA safety certification for Australia and New Zealand is set to expire at the end of October 2018 and will not be renewed. Therefore, all new builds for the POE36U-1AT will be without the C-Tick or RCM markings for Australia and New Zealand.

If you require a solution with Australian/New Zealand certifications then please inquire about the POE29U-1AT(PL)D with your Phihong sales person or representative.

Sincerely,

Thomas Chin
