Description for Product Change Notification

For the QPD 4x2,5 set of connectors an additional thread was added toward the mating face. This will make engaging the QUICKON nut easier for inexperienced users. The plug connector has been updated to accommodate the additional thread as well.

The old plugs will not be compatible with the new housings with additional thread, but the new plugs will be backwards compatible, working with housings that do and do not have the additional thread. The new plugs were rolled out as of 12/1/2020, in advance of the new housings in February to avoid any compatibility concerns. New plugs (QPD P...) will include a white tag located by the position marker for PE or position 4 to distinguish them from the old version.
